

THEY CALL IT A DRAW

But Jack Dempsey Certainly Got the Best of the Contest.

McCARTHY HELD OUT, HOWEVER

He Received Some Hard Punishment, Which He Stood Well—The Fight-ers Divide the Purse.

New Orleans, September 5.—Jack Dempsey and Billy McCarthy, of Australia, fought tonight in the arena of the Auditorium Athletic Club before a very large audience. Both men were carefully trained, the ex-nanparell having fitted himself on the coast of Georgia and gymnasium of the Young Men's Gymnasium Club, of this city. McCarthy has been in constant training for two months at Captain Smith's quarters, in the upper district of this city. Both men entered the ring following their seconds, each receiving a good share of applause, but the greeting given to Dempsey clearly showed that his friends were in the majority. The contest was confined to twenty rounds. Interested spectators were Bob Fitzsimmons and Stanton Abbott.

McCarthy, with his seconds, entered the ring at 9 o'clock, and was soon followed by Dempsey and his aids.

John Duffy entered the ring a moment later to take the position of referee.

Dempsey was first to weigh, fixing the scales himself. He weighed in at 146 pounds. McCarthy tested the scales, weighing 145 pounds, the exact limit. Time was called at 9:15 o'clock; the men advanced to the center of the ring and the fight was on.

First Round—McCarthy landed a heavy blow on the head, but Dempsey missed right swing for the head. Both landed heavy swings on the head. Both men landed left on jaw and both scored heavy swings.

Second Round—McCarthy scored a right on the head. Both landed blows on the head. The Australian was fighting mainly for the body and Dempsey for the head. Dempsey missed a left swing for the head, caught the Australian on the nose a moment later. Dempsey scored a heavy blow on the neck and landed on the body a moment later, but received a left-hander. McCarthy caught a left-hander swing on the jaw. This was Dempsey's round.

Third Round—McCarthy landed on the nose and the men clinched. McCarthy missed two vicious rights, but ran into a heavy right on the jaw. Dempsey landed another right on the head, nearly knocking McCarthy down. The Australian received terrible punishment in this round. Dempsey scored a left on the nose.

Fourth Round—Dempsey landed a heavy left on his opponent's nose and got away. Both men scored blows on the head. McCarthy missed a left lead for the body. Dempsey landed a heavy swing in the stomach and the right a moment later in the same spot. McCarthy ducked into a heavy upper-cut and got it again with the right on the head before he could recover. This was Dempsey's round.

Fifth Round—Both men missed and nearly fell to the ground. McCarthy covered and nearly fell through the ropes, attempting to land a right blow. The men clinched repeatedly in this round. Dempsey scored a left on the nose and a right on the body. Dempsey was now the aggressor and landed right and left on the head.

Sixth Round—McCarthy was the aggressor. Dempsey landed a left on the jaw and on the body a moment later. Dempsey seemed able to score heavy body blows at will. McCarthy avoided a heavy swing that nearly lifted Dempsey off the ground. McCarthy caught a left in the jaw, but missed a similar blow a moment later. Both men landed heavy body punches.

Seventh Round—The men commenced by clinching. Dempsey landed a heavy body blow after the break-away. McCarthy forced Dempsey into the ropes and landed a heavy right on the head. Dempsey scored a stomach punch. McCarthy's wings were very wild. Both men landed body blows, but McCarthy received a vicious right without giving a return. Dempsey landed a right on the face and head and had much the best of the round.

Eighth Round—McCarthy clinched to avoid punishment. McCarthy missed a right-hand swing and the men nearly fell through the ropes. Dempsey continued his terrific right on the body. Both men landed lefts on the head and feet on the ropes. Several clinches in this round, mainly due to Dempsey's generalship. Dempsey landed two rights on the jaw just as time was called.

Ninth Round—Both men landed blows on the head. Dempsey scored a right on the jaw. Both men landed on the body. McCarthy scored a right on Dempsey's head. Dempsey landed a right in the face, and, as time was called, he scored a heavy left and right on the body.

Tenth Round—Both men landed body blows and Dempsey clinched. McCarthy landed two heavy rights on the head, but got body punches in return. Dempsey scored a body punch and landed a right on the head and left on the nose. McCarthy all over the arena and missed the return. McCarthy received two heavy rights over the heart and Dempsey clinched. Dempsey landed a heavy right on the nose and a left on the body.

Eleventh Round—Dempsey landed his usual right body punch and repeated it again, a moment later. The men clinched and Dempsey landed a heavy right on the nose. Dempsey landed a right on the body and hit his opponent once, two, three, in the corner. The men were fighting very fair. Dempsey outgeneraled his opponent at every point.

Twelfth Round—Dempsey had clearly the best of the twelfth round, hitting his opponent at will.

From the thirteenth to the twentieth round Dempsey did all the execution, landing right and left, but he could not knock out his game opponent.

The fight was declared a draw and the purse—$2,000—was divided.

DR. JACKSON TALKS.

He Is Very Much Incensed Over the Rumors of His Encounter.

SAYS HE HAS BEEN MISREPRESENTED

A Negro Suspect Was Caught in Madison Yesterday, but the Doctor Failed to Identify Him, and He Was Released.

A negro supposed to be the man who made the desperate attack upon Dr. R. G. Jackson yesterday night was arrested in Madison yesterday morning. He was brought to his room at once, and at once to the rooms of the doctor for identification. In many respects the boy tallied with the description given to the detectives just after the shooting, but after looking at him for a while the wounded man said that he was not the negro.

No other arrests were made during the day, but the detectives were busy looking into the matter and they have several important clues which may lead to developments today. The shooting and the circumstances connected with it were the subject of general comment yesterday and there were many theories regarding the escape of the burglar, and the different phases of the affair. Patrolman Braselton, who was the first to reach the rooms after the shooting, gives an interesting account of his experience.

Dr. Jackson of the staircase leading to his rooms," he said, "just before the shots were fired. He was alone and spoke in his usual pleasant way. I had stepped out on the sidewalk and was walking down Whitehall when I heard the shots. They were fired in rapid succession and I could not see how many there were, but I should judge about nine or ten."

"I rushed up to the place at once and found the doctor at the head of the staircase on the third floor. He was lying on his side. They've murdered me! He was saying and I ran to his room at once. The place was full of smoke and the curtain in the middle of the room was ablaze. I had to stop to put this out before I did anything else. As I was standing at the bottom of the stairs, I saw a man go out. I followed him and at once that the man who did the shooting was in the house and I started out to look for him. Both parts of the window in the office were pushed down and the glass was broken in the office as well as in the floor. A pistol ball or pushed out by some one's elbow. A quick as I could I pushed the remaining glass out with my stick and jumped out on the roof. I could see no one, and went back to get a lantern. As I was about to reach the door, I saw the doctor and they were lifting him into the room. The furniture in the office was very much disordered, and it looked like there had been a hard fight there."

Dr. Jackson passed the day comfortably and was seen by many of his friends. Last night he wished to give several directions concerning the case, and call attention to certain important facts. He asked that a detective be telephoned for, and Detective Green responded.

During the day there had been many wild reports concerning the affair, and many were inclined to give it a mysterious coloring. Theories of various kinds were hatched up by those who doubted the story of the burglar. These reports had reached the doctor by the time he was taken to the hospital. Concerning the report in the afternoon paper, which openly expressed a doubt as to the truth of his statement, he was enraged, and did not hesitate to express himself emphatically. "I am very much surprised," he said, "that a paper should publish such a report without investigating the affair. I am positive that no representative of the paper came to my room. At least, he did not make himself known as such, and I gave him such circumstances, the facts should not have been so distorted. These grave insinuations were published without excuse or palliation, and while no direct charges were made, still these insinuations are unjust and cowardly."

"Now, as to the party being a burglar, the least investigation would have resulted in settling that point quickly, and beyond question. I have had men call on me today who say that they saw a man escaping from the roof, and that that man was a negro."

The doctor further stated that, if he had an enemy who would attack him with such ferocity and determination to murder him, he himself as being deeply wronged, and said that he was sorry that on such an occasion he should be forced to protect his character and reputation from such insinuations. Dr. Jackson was resting well yesterday, and his physicians think that with proper care and patience, he will speedily recover.

NEGRO GAMBLERS DISPOSED OF.

Four Were Fined and Several Were Released for Want of Evidence.

Since the detectives pulled the swell negro club there have been a score or more negroes awaiting trial on the charge of gaming. These cases were called yesterday morning by Judge Westmoreland and the result was the finding of four, the release of seven or eight and the continuance of two cases.

Those found guilty of gaming were Willard Ballan, Georgia Martin, Charles Ferguson and Fanny Sloan. Ferguson was fined $20 and each, but was given the option of six months in the chain-gang. Georgia Martin received the same sentence. Ferguson was fined $25 and costs or three months in the chain-gang. Fanny Sloan was fined $15 and permitted to select three months as an alternative.

"It is hardly possible," said he, "to give more than a rough idea of these from the surface drawings that are shown in the pictures. Perspective drawings would, of course, have shown this much better, but we had not the time to make them. Then, too, building an exposition building is very different from building an ordinary building of any other kind. As the fellow said, you can't make a house Queen Anne in front and Mary Anne in the rear, but you can't do that with exposition buildings, which are viewed on all sides."

"When it came to determining what should be the leading motive in the architecture, I found it difficult to determine what would give the best results. I had to take into consideration, of course, the fact that the supply of money is by no means unlimited, and that the time in which the buildings must be constructed

F. H. Caldwell, president of the Cahill Iron works, has just returned from Atlanta, and while there had a conference with the managers of the exposition, and the result is that he will devote all his energies to seeing that this city and the manufacturing interests here will be fully represented. Mr. Caldwell is very enthusiastic over the proposed plan of the manufacturing exhibit, and says that the Cypripediums are falling right in with the idea. All the factories will combine and there will be a specimen of everything that manufactures in this city. The factories will be combined in the exhibit and it will occupy a goodly portion of the grounds. He says that he will be as one of the foremost manufacturing cities in the south, and everything from a sawmill to a machine shop will be there, the display will doubtless be a fine one.

As yet there has been no official meeting of the manufacturers, but the gentlemen who have been approached by Caldwell are all very much interested in the plan and it will doubtless go through without any trouble at all.

NEW YORK, September 5.—As on yesterday the stock market continued entirely professional in its character, with this difference, however, that today operators were inclined to be bearish, whereas, on yesterday the bullish sentiment was in the ascendency. At the start certain sugar issues ran off 1/4 to 3/4 per cent, while Sugar, Western Union, Lake Shore and Lehigh Valley were prominent among the losers. The early loss was soon recovered, however, notwithstanding foreign and local selling to realize profits. The improvement was based partly on the favorable railway earnings for the fourth week and month of August and the statement from railroad officials that westbound traffic was picked up at a satisfactory rate. Subsequently the market drifted into dullness, and as the afternoon wore along small operators who had purchased yesterday on the theory that the upward movement in Western Union and other bull favorites would be pursued, began to sell. This resulted in a general decline of 1/4 to 2 per cent. Sugar leading with sales down to 104 1/2, Burlington and Quincy, St. Paul, Rock Island, Western Union, Reading, Louisville and Nashville and Northern Pacific lost 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. In the last hour there was a fractional rally, but on account of the renewed selling in American Sugar, which carried that stock down to the lowest point of the day, the recovery in the general market was lost. The market in consequence closed barely steady. The transactions were smaller than on yesterday. Net changes show the losses of 1/4 to 2/4 per cent. Sugar leading. Chicagoans, however, were more bullish. The market was strong. Sales of listed stocks aggregated 118,000 shares; unlisted 41,000.

Money on call easy at 1 per cent; last loan at 1; closing offered at 1 per cent; prime mercantile paper 4 1/2 per cent. Sterling exchange steady with actual business at 4 1/2 per cent; 4 1/2 per cent for 60 days and 4 1/2 per cent for 90 days; 4 1/2 per cent for 120 days; 4 1/2 per cent for 180 days; 4 1/2 per cent for 240 days; 4 1/2 per cent for 360 days.

Government bonds steady. State bonds dull. Railroad bonds strong. Silver at the board was 65 1/2 bid and 65 1/4 asked.

Financial Gossip.

The extent in the rise of prices of stocks last month has hardly been appreciated by the general observer. The average of stocks at the close of August were selling at from 8 to 10 per cent higher than they were just a month ago.

Louisville and Nashville is among the largest gainers in the upward movement, and made a net advance of 10 1/2 per cent. Wheeling and Lake Erie, preferred, gained 5 per cent. Denver and Rio Grande, preferred, 8 per cent. St. Paul 6 1/2 per cent. Jersey Central 7 per cent. Northern Pacific 5 per cent. and Lake Shore 4 1/2 per cent.

The Grangers all made gains, although with the exception of St. Paul—smaller than those mentioned above. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy advanced 4 1/2 per cent. Omaha 3 1/2 per cent. Northwestern 5 1/2 per cent. Rock Island 3 1/2 per cent. and Cleveland, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis 4 1/2 per cent. Other notable advances were Lackawanna 5 1/2 per cent. Missouri Pacific and Michigan Central 5 per cent. New York Central 4 1/2 per cent. Reading 4 1/2 per cent. Western Union 4 1/2 per cent. Atchafalpa 3 1/2 per cent. and Canada Southern 3 1/2 per cent.

It would not take many months of gains like the above to convince the general public that a bull market was really in existence, and then prices would go up faster than ever. We expect September to do as well as August did, and, perhaps, better.

The Louisville and Nashville reports a decrease in gross earnings in July of $55,000, but an increase of $3,000 in net earnings. Such a saving in expenses, if maintained when gross earnings increase, would make

THE NEW STOCKHOLDERS

The New Stockholders in its review of last week's stock market says: "Special upward movements seem more probable now than to a general or concerted rise in prices. For this is still a market of specialists, as stated here on Monday last. Speculation and dividend prospects will be paramount considerations this month, and may be expected to determine the speculative outcome."

"The tariff factor has disappeared, and as the market has risen nearly 10 per cent, expectations people are now inclined to look for actual results. Favorable among these are better earnings and a more vigorous movement of general trade. Probably improvement in the latter respect is not what was anticipated a month ago."

"A week ago in this column $200 market was diagnosed in sections with various conditions affecting each. In almost every case the movement of prices was in keeping with such conditions. Hence, stocks have been irregular, with the southern cotton section most conspicuous in point of strength."

"Cause: The agricultural situation. In the cotton states the crop prospect is unpromising. It is the foundation of the strength of southern securities, and this outlook for a yield of 10,000,000 bales, Louisville, the new stock and bonds of the great Southern railway system and Texas Pacific are prominent among the securities which will benefit by the growing prosperity of the south."

"Improving earnings have helped the bankrupt roads, notably Atchafalpa, Erie and Northern Pacific, the preferred of which advanced 10 per cent with others covering. Reading advanced because of better reorganization prospects. In the case of the Union Pacific, the market was not so sure. A basis of earnings must be had on which to build a reorganization plan and it is not quite certain that the right basis is yet available."

"The Grangers, least favored of the dividend paying shares, have not changed much, except Rock Island, which is down over 3 points on the week, closing nearly 10 per cent below the price of St. Paul. Burlington showed that there was plenty of realizing on more short selling. Northwest was dull, and lost a fraction of a point."

"All these properties are involved in the failure of the crop. In Nebraska, where the destruction is worst, the crop is nearly 2,000,000 bushels of corn, in Iowa 1,200,000, in Illinois 1,200,000, in South Dakota 1,200,000, in Minnesota 1,200,000, in Wisconsin A COMING RIDER.

Spear Did Some Fine Work at the Park Yesterday.

A SPLENDID SERIES OF EVENTS

Every Event Warmly Contested by the Entries—A Fairly Good Crowd Witnessed the Sport.

The bicycle races at Piedmont park yesterday afternoon very clearly demonstrated one fact, viz: That young Kendall Spear is the coming champion of the south.

Spear's work yesterday afternoon was wonderful. He won two first places, one second, tied for first place in another race, and rode a half mile against time in 1:12. Such a record is probably not equaled by any other southern rider.

George Quinn also did himself proud in these races. He succeeded in getting one first place, two seconds, ran a dead heat with Spear in the three-mile race, and rode a quarter in 34.5 seconds, establishing a track record for that distance.

The attendance was not as large as expected yesterday afternoon, but the crowd were well entertained. In several of the events, Isaac Baird, of Charleston, who had been extensively advertised to appear in these races, failed to show up, much to the disappointment of the crowd, who were eager to see him go against Spear and Quinn. Johnson, one of Charleston's fastest men, was present, but refused to ride.

The races were well managed by the following track officials: Joe Johnson, referee; Ed Rolle, clerk of course, and Chas. Poole, starter. Mr. Johnson's work as referee was unusually good. The young man has gained considerable reputation as a referee of bicycle races, and his services will probably be in demand at all large race meets given in the south this season.

Referee Johnson called the men to the scratch for the mile novices at 4:16 o'clock. The entries for this race were Joe Duncan, John Quinn and Bruce Gill. The race was a dead heat until the finish, which was good, Duncan winning in 3:42. Quinn second.

The next race was a half mile open. Kendall Spear, Calvin Holmes, Will Johnson and George Quinn started in this race. Spear won in 1:13.5, with Quinn second, not more than a half a wheel behind. Johnson was a good third.

The mile boys' race brought out Calvin Holmes, L. M. Griggs, Princes Read, Dick Blair, Bruce Gill and George Walthour. The boys started out at a lively gait, with little Read pacing. The pace was quite a hot one for boys throughout the whole of the race. Walthour was looked upon as a sure winner in this race, but he was beaten out after a desperate struggle at the finish by Calvin Holmes in 2:05. Gill was third.

George Quinn, Kendall Spear, George Walthour and W. C. Johnson started in the mile open. This race was a good one. Quinn winning in 2:45. Spear was second. Johnson fell while doing his second half. He was riding well, and if he had not fallen the result might have been different. The fifth race was a mile for the boys in the employ of the Bicycle Messenger Company. Thompson, Barrett, Calloway, Queen and Gill started. Queen won easily, with Thompson second and Calloway third. Queen's time was 3:15.5.

Walthour, Quinn, Holmes and Spear lined up for the two-mile open. This race was practically between Spear and Quinn, although both Holmes and Walthour did some good work. In a neck-and-neck finish, Spear won from Quinn by a few inches. Holmes was third. The time, 6:07, was very good.

The half-mile race for class B men came next. Gus Castles and Paul DeWitt, the only class B men in Atlanta, were the only starters. The pair were very evenly matched, and the race was one of the prettiest on the programme. Castles won by a wheel in 1:37.5.

Spear then did an exhibition half mile against time. He was paced by Holmes and Quinn. The seat was a slow one, and it took several seconds for Spear to get well under way. Quinn took the pacing at the quarter. The pick up was a very poor one, and caused a loss of some seconds. Spear beat his pacer out, riding the half in 1:12. With proper pacing, there is no doubt that Spear could lower his time several seconds.

Quinn next rode a quarter mile to lower the track record of 35 seconds. He succeeded in his attempt, riding the quarter in 34.5. He was paced by Spear.

The race of the horse against the bicycle was off the programme and a three-mile handicap was substituted for it. Spear, Quinn, Holmes, Queen and Thompson started in this event. As the race progressed the men dropped out one by one until at last only Spear and Quinn were left on the track. It was nip and tuck between them. First one led and then gave way to the other. The finish was a desperate one, both men crossing the tape together. Referee Johnson declared the race a tie.

DO YOU WANT WORK?

If So, Enter the Southern Shorthand and Business University,

IN THE GRAND, ON PEACHTREE STREET

This Business University is Said to Be Fifty Years Ahead of Its Southern Competitors.

The Southern Shorthand and Business University in "The Grand," on Peachtree, is said by those who have examined its facilities to be fifty years ahead of its competitors.

Six thousand of its graduates are in good positions, and the managers are continually receiving applications from representative business men for competent young men and women. Take a thorough course at this institution and you will experience no trouble in securing work.

Its faculty are men of experience and men you know, and not composed of uneducated students, as is the case with the little cheap-rate schools.

The committee appointed by the alumni of the high school, said that the Southern Shorthand and Business University in the Grand is the best and most practical business school in Atlanta. That would settle the question. Compare the facilities and course of study of the Southern with other schools and you would then prefer to pay double the rates of tuition for its superior advantages, as charged by the inferior schools.

Fine Crops in York.
Yorkville, S. C., September 5.—(Special.)—York county is on a fine road to a better condition of affairs because of the bright prospects of one of the largest crops ever produced in the county being harvested. Corn is fine and in abundance, cotton is good, the wheat crop large and of good quality, and the hog crop the largest that has been produced since the war.

WOULD NOT RELENT.

Judge Westmoreland Determined to Be Severe on Gamblers.

BROWN WAS REFUSED A JAIL SENTENCE

Motion for a New Trial in John Lloyd's Case Was Overruled—Doctor's Certificate Useless with the Judge.

Judge Westmoreland is determined to put down gambling, and has refused to show to any of those he has fined the slightest leniency.

An effort was made yesterday morning to secure the reduction of a fine for gambling, another to have a sentence to the chair changed to a sentence in the jail, while in another case a motion for a new trial was made.

But to all of these pleas Judge Westmoreland turned a deaf ear, and will let his first judgment be his last, and let it stand, in order that there may be examples held out to those who take an interest in such things.

The attorney for William Brown, who was arrested some days ago on the charge of keeping a gambling house, made an effort yesterday to get a reduction of his client's fine, and at the same time to have the sentence changed so that Brown might serve it out in jail, and not have to work in the chain gang.

This latter move was made in order that Brown might be provided for in case he fails to raise the money necessary to pay his fine.

The case of Brown is one of interest. There were charges of gaming against the detectives, and an investigation by the grand jury followed; the result was an exoneration of the detectives whose names were involved. There were several witnesses who went before the grand jury and testified that they had turned money over to Brown to pay to the detectives, and that he had promised them protection. When he was brought before the grand jury, Brown testified that he had paid no money to the detectives. It was early one morning, about 1 o'clock, that he was arrested. Brown was pulled, and with him a lot of gambling paraphernalia. He went before Judge Westmoreland and entered a plea of guilty in two cases. Much to his surprise, Judge Westmoreland fined him $500 and costs in one case and $200 and costs in the second.

Permission was obtained by Brown to try to raise the necessary amount, and up to yesterday it was understood that he had failed. However, on yesterday morning his attorney went before Judge Westmoreland with a certificate from the county physician and one from Brown's physician, showing that Brown was unable to undergo the hardship of chain-gang labor. In this connection an effort was made to have the sentence changed to imprisonment in jail, as stated. But Judge Westmoreland refused to entertain anything on this line, despite the affidavits that had been prepared, and, unless the money is raised, Brown will have to go to the chain-gang for ten months.

It is claimed by his friends that he is physically unable to work as would be required of him at the chain-gang, and they assert that the certificates of his physician and the county physician will bear them out.

Refused to Grant a New Trial.

The attorneys for John Lloyd, who was fined $500 for gaming, and who took an oath never to gamble again, made a motion yesterday morning before Judge Westmoreland for a new trial. After hearing the arguments, Judge Westmoreland refused the new trial, and the case will be taken to the court in effort to have the fine reduced before the motion for a new trial was made, but Judge Westmoreland refused to entertain the petition.

Total thus far this week 25,000, against 14,142 thus far last week, to Great Britain. Houston received 2,300. The exports from the ports today were 1,300 against 4,900 this day last week and 1,120 last year. Rainfall moderate. Silver declined 1-16 in London and 5/8 here. Cotton goods active and strong.

Today's features: Sports were nervous, on account of the unfavorable crop news, and more activity in Liverpool, a stronger tone in Manchester, and some advance in spot cotton here. They were also apprehensive that the next government report to be issued on the 10th instant would be bullish. The advance today was hastened by stop orders. The southern and local operators bought.

Prime Necessities

A Lighthouse is a prime necessity for a ship in a dark and dangerous sea.

The Encyclopædia Britannica is a prime necessity for a youth embarking upon the sea of life. It is in truth a lighthouse, and compared with other works of reference is as far superior to them as the modern electric light is to the oil lamp that the mariner used to depend on.

There is no department of human knowledge so dark, no mazes of human investigation so obscure, that it cannot light them, and whatever a man's walk in life may be, whether as professional man, artisan or laborer, the intricacies of his special vocation need such illumination as is furnished in this incomparable work. A good light on

Roncador Reef

Would have preserved the historic Kearsarge from destruction a few weeks ago; and many a man could steer clear of the reefs and shoals that threaten his health, happiness and success in life if he would set up in his home the great lighthouse, the Encyclopædia Britannica.

The daily expense of a good lighthouse is enormous, and this expense continues forever; the daily outlay to secure the Encyclopædia Britannica "lighthouse" is only 10 cents, and after you have once paid the low subscription price, the "light" costs you nothing thereafter.

Place this great guide in your home that it may be a beacon light to your children and yourself, lighting up the way to success.

There is no time like the present to act.

Why?

Because a good thing cannot be done too soon. Because if the books are of value to you, every minute you are without them is a loss of that value for that time. Is it not? Because the best terms and prices can be made now. IT IS AN OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME. CALL AT THE

TO SELECT A TICKET.

The Prohibitionists Will Hold a Meeting Tonight.

IT IS THE ANNUAL MEETING

Officers Are to Be Elected in Addition to the Other Work to Be Done.
What They Say.

The annual meeting of the Atlanta Prohibition Club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, and developments of a highly interesting and decidedly political character are expected.

In many respects the meeting will be one of unusual significance and importance. Besides the matter of electing an entire new set of officers, the club will name an entire ticket for city officers to be elected at the coming election. Their selections will be made from the present supply of candidates already in the field.

The latter work is, of course, the matter of primary importance, although there is a great deal of interest centered in the election of new officers to serve the club for the coming year. The individual members of the club believe that it is very important to put forward their very best leaders at this juncture, as they expect to play no inconsiderable part in the race that is already on.

The present officers of the club are: President, Mr. A. J. Shropshire; secretary, Mr. John S. Cook. It is said that there are two factions in the club, as is usual in similar organizations; but just what the relative strength of the two sides is, is a question. Anyway, it is a safe prophecy that there will be more than one set of candidates before tonight's meeting. Who will be put up for election is merely a matter of surmise, and not even the leading members of the club will say anything.

But they are willing enough to talk about the selection of a ticket for city officers. They declare that they will put out a full ticket and that that ticket will be the winner in the primary of October 3d. "We hold the balance of power," said one of them yesterday, "we are going to use it. We are not going outside of the candidates already announced to get our men, either. There are enough candidates already in the field to suit us."

"We are going to be guided by the action of no set of men. We will act independently of the committee of fifty-eight or of the ward meetings, and it is extremely likely that our ticket will contain names of men who are now on both of the tickets in the field. That means that it will not be the ticket of the Chamber of Commerce meeting nor the ticket of the mass meetings; but part of both that will win. It is hardly likely that we will endorse the whole of either one of the two tickets."

"We are in position to make a winning campaign this time. We are better organized than ever before. Our members have pledged themselves to vote the ticket we name, and that pledge is in writing. We are antagonistic to no one. We are making no anti-whisky fight; but we are working for the best men to represent Atlanta in the city council and in the other offices."

It is understood that the ticket that will be named tonight will be selected without reference to the views of the candidates on the whisky question.

The claims of the club are highly hopeful, and it will be interesting to watch the results of their coming together. The proceedings will be of the entertaining kind, no doubt.

A GREAT REVIVAL

Has Been Going on in Columbia, Ala.—
Rev. M. B. Williams, the well-known evangelist of this city, has just closed a most successful revival meeting at Columbia, Ala., and has returned to the city.

The meeting was one of the most wonderful revivals ever held in that section of the country. One hundred and seventy-one persons joined the church, and a great many more were induced to give up their evil ways. The effects of the revival were particularly noticeable among the old men. Old sinners were reformed by the score.

It is said that all the gamblers of the town of Columbia were converted. Mr. Williams had many cards and chips brought to him to be burned by the gamblers.

The good effects of this wonderful revival are far reaching. About one hundred persons promised to erect a new altar. Mr. Williams, to whose energetic work in the cause of religion much of the credit of this revival is due, will reach Atlanta today, for a short rest from his labors.
